

TO DEAL WITH IMPRISONED RECUSANTS be bestowed in prisons not fit for them to remain by reason of favour shown to them, the commissioners will take order, as they think fit, for their more straight keeping or removing to other prisons

y>tb January FLESH PROHIBITED DURING LENT

The Lords-Lieutenant of the counties near London are charged that the orders restraining the use of flesh during the time of Lent shall be put in execution and not as in former years so neglected that at this time of the year wherein young cattle should most be spared for increase a greater quantity is killed than in any other season The money received from the butchers for their licences is reserved for the use of poor soldiers, lame, impotent or maimed in the wars lth February DANIEL'S ° DELIA '

Deli&i containing certain sonnets•, by Samuel Daniel, is entered In the Epistle Dedicatory to the Lady Mary, Countess of Pembroke, Mr Daniel wnteth that although he rather desired to keep in the private passions of his youth from the multitude, as things uttered to himself and consecrated to silence, yet seeing that he was betrayed by the indiscretion of a greedy printer and had some of his secrets betrayed to the world uncorrected, doubting the like of the rest, he is thus forced to publish that which he never meant

6th February NEWS FROM FRANCE

The news from France is that the Duke of Parma is likely to give battle, and if he doth not besiege some town by the way will reach Rouen within a week Sir Henry Unton, the ambassador, is not only out of favour with the Queen over the matter of her letter to Essex, but with the King, who is advertised that he lath done ill offices for him with the Queen

SIR FRANCIS WILLOTJGHBY BEFORE THE COUNCIL

Sir Francis Willoughby was called before the Council at the suit of Robert Paine, a prisoner in the King's Bench, for certain hard and unconscionable dealings offered by his servants, which appeared to their Lordships to be rather of malice than of any good ground or proof. They move him to have a charitable consideration of the poor man's estate, to which he willingly